RCHS Mission Statement

The Mission of the Randolph County Humane Society is to make a difference in the lives of animals and in the community. We are a charitable organization promoting responsible pet ownership. The RCHS is dedicated to creating a world where our relationships with animals is guided by compassion. Our goal is to help prevent animal cruelty and place abandoned, adoptable, healthy pets in loving new homes. We cherish our animal companions for their unconditional affection and acceptance. We seek a truly humane society in which animals are respected for their learning ability and value, and where the human-animal bond is strengthened and seen.

To help those animals lacking the love and care of a good home, volunteers with the RCHS ask for your assistance in promoting the humane care of all abandoned and stray animals in our community. Founded in 2000, the RCHS is a non-profit 501c3 charitable organization, and is dependent on the goodness of the community, and overall donations that we are so very thankful for, so that we may continue to provide the shelter and care for the animals. Along with fundraisers and volunteers', that helps support us on a daily basis, to be able to give the animals all the necessary care in which they deserve, during their time at the RCHS. Our lucky animals receive appropriate shelter, medical care, and are featured on the RCHS website 'adoption list' and are taken to adoption events in an attempt to find permanent, loving homes, along with our transports' in to other facility's that also make sure they will get good loving homes. For them we are Thankful.
